

COX PLANS CABINET POST FOR ENGINEER

Would Give Portfolio to Industrial Expert if Elected, He Declares

CAMPAIGNS IN NEW YORK

By the Associated Press New York, Oct. 23.—Governor Cox today told several hundred members of the Young Americans Democratic League that he would devote his energy to accomplishing an industrial readjustment throughout the country.

One of the first steps in this direction, he said, would be the appointment of "the highest class industrial engineer available in the country as a member of my cabinet."

Governor Cox said he was "absolutely free and unfettered by campaign promises" in a matter of appointing a fourth-class postmaster.

"Although I feel myself an utterly free man," he added, "I shall recognize my position as a positive mandate for the League of Nations. I do not intend to consider my election as a personal or party victory, but as a triumph of the principle which the Democratic party represents."

Sees Republican Confusion

"If Senator Harding is elected there will be, on the other hand, a multitude of confusions in Washington. The certainty of this is evidenced by the statements of men prominent in the League. In the newspapers nearly every day Senator Johnson declares that the Republican candidate is firmly set against the league, while in the same newspaper the Democratic candidate declares with equal positiveness that Harding is for it."

After speaking to the Young Americans Democratic League, Governor Cox went into conference with his campaign advisers in New York, receiving in his apartment George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee; Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, chairman of the speakers' bureau; and other national and state party leaders.

Discussing his campaign informally with newspapermen, the Democratic nominee reviewed his speech-making tour since his nomination.

"I know little about the case except what I have read in the papers. I haven't seen Will for more than a year. I have seen his mother and have heard of Will. He was in the University this year and that he sold maps last summer. He did not have to do that for his mother as an income and he was not in the army. He was in the United States Army, but I have never heard anything other than that about him. It is hard to tell what might have caused him to act as he did. I am sure, however, that he committed the murder. Perhaps he was not himself. There might have been circumstances, but then, these are only suppositions. The newspapers know far more about the case than I do."

Mr. Wiggins communicated with Mr. Gray early today, and the lawyer immediately got in touch with Major Samuels, chief of the county detectives' office. Mr. Gray spent an hour with Major Wynne at the latter's office.

Later Mr. Wiggins and Mr. Gray went to the Women's Southern Homeopathic Hospital, which is at Broad and Bainbridge streets, and had a half-hour conversation with Mrs. Brines. It was after the meeting with the mother of the missing Penn student that Mr. Gray announced that Brines would be surrendered if the family could get in touch with him.

Mr. Brines is getting better," said Mr. Wiggins. "The doctor says that he has been retained as attorney in the case. Mrs. Brines refers all questions to him."

The body of Drewes, his brain penetrated by a pistol bullet, was found propped against a lamp post on Mascher road, near City line, early Sunday morning. It was after the mother of the missing Penn student that Mr. Gray announced that Brines would be surrendered if the family could get in touch with him.

At advantageous points along his route in New York, the displays of fireworks were set off to provide color while the procession of flag-draped machines filed past, flanked by a motorcycle police escort.

Arrived at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, the candidate met Mrs. Cox, who had come from her Dayton home during the day to be with the governor here and accompany him on the last week of the campaign tour.

Youth Under Arrest Bears Brines' Scars

Contained from Page One picked Lamont up in the crowd on the train and kept him under surveillance until Derryville was reached. There Sheriff Officer Harry Cox, of the Pennsylvania Railroad detective force, and Sheriff Smith took the train.

Had Quart of Whisky Cox arrested Brines and turned him over to the sheriff. He was taken with the train and put on another, which took him to Elkton, where he was lodged in jail. A quart bottle of whisky was found in his room when he was taken to this city from New York to get it. He had very little money. It was about half past seven o'clock when he was brought to Elkton.

He was questioned closely by the sheriff and the night watchman. He admitted he had been to Philadelphia, but said he was not a native of this city, his home being in Chicago.

He told the sheriff he had been working in New York, but was out of a job. Some one had promised him a job, he said, in Philadelphia and he had come to this city from New York to get it. He had been disappointed, he said, and decided to go to Baltimore to look for work.

The prisoner was indignant because the sheriff had not taken him to breakfast. He pounded on the door of his cell to attract attention, and when asked what was the matter, said the sheriff had not taken him breakfast and had not "made good."

Prisoner Becomes Surly "What do you think this is—a hotel?" asked the prisoner. The prisoner grew angry because he hadn't been given his breakfast, and refused to do any more talking.

The LEDGER newspaper, with its flying reporter in photograph, went to Elkton to get a picture of the suspect. The plane arrived ahead of the train bearing County Detective Dickerson, and created intense excitement in the little town when it hovered high overhead, circling for a landing place. The trip from the flying field to the outskirts of Philadelphia to Elkton was made in twenty minutes. It took almost as long to find a field where a safe landing could be made.

The entire town turned out to see the big machine land. It came down safely and the photographer and reporter-pilot hurried to the jail, where

Today's Developments in Drewes Murder

Man arrested at Elkton said by police of that place to be William P. Brines. Detectives are bringing the man to this city.

Detectives still working on theory that auto thieves figure in case. Mrs. Anna Brines ill in hospital. Police say her son confessed to her.

The sheriff was waiting, ready to bring the prisoner out to be photographed. "Lamont" objected strenuously to having his picture taken. He refused to pose, and when he was "snapped" standing beside the sheriff, tried to break away to attack the photographer.

Detective Dickerson arrived at 10:40 o'clock and went immediately to the jail. He looked the prisoner over and talked to him, and told him that he could make his choice between coming to Philadelphia voluntarily or being brought back by requisition. "Lamont" decided he would accompany Dickerson.

Reporters Follow Car An automobile was obtained, and with another automobile following, a group of newspaper reporters, the party was ready to set out on the return trip at 11:00 o'clock.

Mr. Wiggins, when asked today whether he believed the report that Brines was under arrest said he had no information and could not form an opinion. Wiggins, however, said he thought the suspect might be Brines. "The only reason for this belief," he said, "is that there was no detective in the case who could have been at the hospital where Mrs. Brines is undergoing treatment. I observed this today when I went to Mrs. Brines' apartment for some clothing for her, and I saw the hospital. The police have been watching both the house and the hospital."

Mr. Wiggins was seen as he left the hospital after visiting Mrs. Brines. Her limousine stood at the curb waiting for her. She was beautifully gowned and apparently at ease although there were several eyes as though she had been weeping.

"Mrs. Brines has never mentioned her son's name in connection with the case, and of course, I have not discussed it or brought up the subject with her. I do not know if she has heard anything from the boy. I saw in today's newspaper that she is in Maryland and I think perhaps this is true."

Knows Little of Case "I know little about the case except what I have read in the papers. I haven't seen Will for more than a year. I have seen his mother and have heard of Will. He was in the University this year and that he sold maps last summer. He did not have to do that for his mother as an income and he was not in the army. He was in the United States Army, but I have never heard anything other than that about him. It is hard to tell what might have caused him to act as he did. I am sure, however, that he committed the murder. Perhaps he was not himself. There might have been circumstances, but then, these are only suppositions. The newspapers know far more about the case than I do."

Mr. Wiggins communicated with Mr. Gray early today, and the lawyer immediately got in touch with Major Samuels, chief of the county detectives' office. Mr. Gray spent an hour with Major Wynne at the latter's office.

Later Mr. Wiggins and Mr. Gray went to the Women's Southern Homeopathic Hospital, which is at Broad and Bainbridge streets, and had a half-hour conversation with Mrs. Brines. It was after the meeting with the mother of the missing Penn student that Mr. Gray announced that Brines would be surrendered if the family could get in touch with him.

Mr. Brines is getting better," said Mr. Wiggins. "The doctor says that he has been retained as attorney in the case. Mrs. Brines refers all questions to him."

The body of Drewes, his brain penetrated by a pistol bullet, was found propped against a lamp post on Mascher road, near City line, early Sunday morning. It was after the mother of the missing Penn student that Mr. Gray announced that Brines would be surrendered if the family could get in touch with him.

At advantageous points along his route in New York, the displays of fireworks were set off to provide color while the procession of flag-draped machines filed past, flanked by a motorcycle police escort.

Arrived at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, the candidate met Mrs. Cox, who had come from her Dayton home during the day to be with the governor here and accompany him on the last week of the campaign tour.

Youth Under Arrest Bears Brines' Scars

Contained from Page One picked Lamont up in the crowd on the train and kept him under surveillance until Derryville was reached. There Sheriff Officer Harry Cox, of the Pennsylvania Railroad detective force, and Sheriff Smith took the train.

Had Quart of Whisky Cox arrested Brines and turned him over to the sheriff. He was taken with the train and put on another, which took him to Elkton, where he was lodged in jail. A quart bottle of whisky was found in his room when he was taken to this city from New York to get it. He had very little money. It was about half past seven o'clock when he was brought to Elkton.

He was questioned closely by the sheriff and the night watchman. He admitted he had been to Philadelphia, but said he was not a native of this city, his home being in Chicago.

He told the sheriff he had been working in New York, but was out of a job. Some one had promised him a job, he said, in Philadelphia and he had come to this city from New York to get it. He had been disappointed, he said, and decided to go to Baltimore to look for work.

The prisoner was indignant because the sheriff had not taken him to breakfast. He pounded on the door of his cell to attract attention, and when asked what was the matter, said the sheriff had not taken him breakfast and had not "made good."

Prisoner Becomes Surly "What do you think this is—a hotel?" asked the prisoner. The prisoner grew angry because he hadn't been given his breakfast, and refused to do any more talking.

The LEDGER newspaper, with its flying reporter in photograph, went to Elkton to get a picture of the suspect. The plane arrived ahead of the train bearing County Detective Dickerson, and created intense excitement in the little town when it hovered high overhead, circling for a landing place. The trip from the flying field to the outskirts of Philadelphia to Elkton was made in twenty minutes. It took almost as long to find a field where a safe landing could be made.

The entire town turned out to see the big machine land. It came down safely and the photographer and reporter-pilot hurried to the jail, where

PREPARE TROLLEYS FOR HOLIDAY RUSH

Conference Held to Improve Service for Christmas Time Demands

EXTENSIONS ARE PLANNED

Trolley service is to be improved to meet the needs of heavy holiday traffic next month and December as a result of a conference today held by members of the Public Service Commission and representatives of the city and the P. R. T. Co.

This is to be the immediate aim of the commission's engineers now investigating the service here. The investigation was ordered by the commission when it decreed a seven-cent cash fare here, effective November 1.

After the holiday needs have been met, plans are to be prepared for extensions and improvements including proposed co-operation with the city's projected system of high-speed lines.

Clement Tells Plans Samuel W. Clement, Jr., a public service commissioner, who presided at today's conference in his office in the West End Trust Building, issued this statement:

"In general, the purposes of the engineering conference to be formed in accordance with the order of the commission are threefold:

"1. To determine measures of immediate service relief to meet the approaching heavy winter and holiday traffic.

"2. To determine necessary measures of service improvement and extension that may reasonably be undertaken by the company after the close of the holiday season.

"3. To determine a comprehensive plan of service, extensions and improvements, embracing co-ordination with the city's high speed lines, and the transit system to be operated with the highest degree of efficiency and public service after the completion of the pending valuation and the fixing of a fare schedule.

Old Tickets End October 31 The conference included Commissioner Benn, Traffic Director Twining, Samuel Rosenbaum, assistant city solicitor; Dr. P. Herbert Snow, chief engineer of the Public Service Commission; A. Howard Jones, assistant engineer for the commission; R. H. Horton, traffic engineer for the P. R. T. Co., and Boyd Lee Spahr, of counsel for the P. R. T. Co. The P. R. T. Co. announced today that car tickets now sold for five cents each will not be accepted after October 31.

HARDING PREPARES TALKS

Will Make Careful Statements of Policies Next Week

Marion, O., Oct. 23.—(By A. P.)—Back in his office at headquarters here for the first full day of desk work in his new position as Republican candidate for the presidency, Mr. Harding began today to shape the public utterances with which he will close his campaign next week in full leading Ohio cities.

The first of the speeches is to be delivered in Cleveland, Wednesday night, and on the remaining nights of the week he will speak successively in Akron, Columbus and Cincinnati. The final speech he may issue a public statement touching on one or two campaign issues in the light of recent developments.

HOOPER RAPS WILSON

Declares Administration Failure Since the Armistice

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Herbert Hoover, who spoke at a Republican mass-meeting here last night in the interest of the candidacy of Judge Nathan Miller for the governorship, declared that "the Democratic administration in Washington has been a failure in its broad statesmanship ever since the armistice."

In addition to the failures to make those compromises necessary to secure the peace of the world, to forego our great resources by flying squadrons, and to depend upon our labor for this cause," he continued, "the Democratic party has failed to provide those policies of domestic reconstruction that would have benefited our country. Its action on social questions has been uncertain and in the main, reactionary."

COOLIDGE AT STAUNTON, VA.

Speaks at Wilson's Birthplace on Tour of South

On Board Governor Coolidge's Special Train, Oct. 23.—(By A. P.)—Governor Coolidge entered upon his final day of campaigning in the southern states with a schedule which called for meetings in Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland.

Addressing a large meeting in Staunton, Va., the birthplace of President Wilson, where he was to make his first stop today, the governor was introduced by Harrisburg, Woodstock and Winchester, Va.; Martinsburg, W. Va., and Packerstown, Md. The final address of the tour will be given tonight at Frederick, Md.

LEAGUE CHIEFS TO MEET

Supreme Council to Hold Session in Geneva When Assembly Convenes

Paris, Oct. 23.—(By A. P.)—The League of Nations assembly, which opens today in Geneva, will be preceded by a meeting of the League's supreme council, which will convene in Geneva on October 24.

The assembly will be preceded by a meeting of the League's supreme council, which will convene in Geneva on October 24. The council will discuss the League's budget for 1921, and will also discuss the League's financial situation.

FAIR AND COOL NEXT WEEK

Possibility of Local Rains Early, Says Forecaster

Washington, Oct. 23.—(By A. P.)—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday are: Fair and cool, with a possibility of local rains early in the week.

THOUSANDS VISIT PROVING GROUNDS

Aerial combats and many styles of airplane maneuvering were witnessed yesterday afternoon at the United States proving grounds, Aberdeen, Md. The large machine is a Handley-Page bombing plane, which attracted much attention. The Ledger newspaper is at the left, while Lieutenant Carl Eason is "looping the loop." A "flying reporter" and a "flying photographer" went down to cover the assignment for the Evening Public Ledger.

Aerial combats and many styles of airplane maneuvering were witnessed yesterday afternoon at the United States proving grounds, Aberdeen, Md. The large machine is a Handley-Page bombing plane, which attracted much attention. The Ledger newspaper is at the left, while Lieutenant Carl Eason is "looping the loop." A "flying reporter" and a "flying photographer" went down to cover the assignment for the Evening Public Ledger.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

The proving grounds are located in a large field near Aberdeen, Md. The grounds are used for testing new aircraft and for training pilots. The grounds are also used for aerial combats and other maneuvers.

AMERICAN RADICAL

E. J. Costello Believed to Be Agent for World-Wide Revolutionary Press

U. S. PROPAGANDA PLANNED

Summary of special cable dispatches to today's Evening Public Ledger by the Public Ledger Co.

London, Oct. 23.—An immense Bolshevik plan to set up a powerful revolutionary propaganda in the United States was revealed yesterday through the detention by the British authorities of an American citizen, E. J. Costello, for whom a deportation order has been issued by the home secretary.

The PUBLIC LEDGER foreign service is in possession of evidence from a high source showing that the Moscow Soviet Government already has launched its scheme of a universal revolutionary press and that the entire radical news-gathering and disseminating service in Europe and the East is closely affiliated and is centered in Washington under the name of the "Federated Press of America." All the Russian press services, together with the continental propaganda agencies and an alleged English bureau, centered in the Daily Herald, of London, are said to be grouped under this American name.

The American press abroad for some months has been Costello.

Sinn Fein Leaders Captured Dublin, Oct. 23.—Events are moving rapidly here. Within thirty days the Talbot street affair, in which one commandant of the Irish Republican army was killed and three other Sinn Fein leaders were captured, was reported to be the connecting link between the Irish Republican Brotherhood and Bolshevik headquarters in Glasgow) were captured. The Irish Republican army, capturing an enormous mass of incriminating documents and valuable information.

Man Murdered in Washington Believed to Be Major F. M. Scandland

Washington, Oct. 23.—(By A. P.)—Police declared today they were in possession of information which identified the body of a man found last night on the outskirts of Washington as that of Major Frank M. Scandland, a military aviator who was shot to death at the A. E. F. camp, Camp Meade, Md.

The body, badly bruised, was found in a clump of undergrowth, and police today advanced the theory that the man had been taken to a rear street in the city and the body dragged into the brush. The man apparently had been dead about three days.

Major Scandland had been in the army about thirty-five years. He was a native of Louisville, Ky., and went to Oswego with the Twenty-third Infantry in 1913, remaining there for about a year. During the world war he was attached to the United States commission in Italy and received several citations and medals. He was gassed and recently had been undergoing treatment at Fort Bliss, El Paso, Tex.

READY FOR BALLOON RACE

Aeronauts of Four Nations Will "Hop Off" Today

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 23.—(By A. P.)—Aeronauts of four nations will take part in the international balloon race for the Bennett trophy which starts from here at 10 o'clock this afternoon. Gas was pumped into the huge airships during the morning hours.

The competitors will leave the field in the following order: French balloon—Captain Louis Biraucourt; pilot, Leo C. Nathan, aide; United States army balloon—Lieutenant R. E. Thompson; pilot; Captain H. E. Weeks, aide; Belgian balloon—Lieutenant Ernest De Murbre; pilot; Lieutenant Mathieu Mabry; pilot; Italian entry, Audens—Major J. Valle, pilot; Major D. Leone, aide; American entry, Kansas City—Major J. H. H. Honeywell, of St. Louis, winner of the American national race; pilot; Dr. Jerome Kingsbery, aide. Italian entry—Major H. Madoni, pilot; Lieutenant A. Pirazzoli, aide; American entry, Genoa—Ralph Young, pilot; W. T. Van Orman, aide.

10 YEARS FOR MRS. KENYON

Woman Convicted of Manslaughter Takes Sentence Calmly

Norwich, Conn., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Mabel Church Kenyon, of Stonington, who has been on trial in the Criminal Superior Court on the charge of second-degree murder in the killing of Dr. Herbert Tetlow last June, was found guilty of manslaughter yesterday and was sentenced to state prison for ten to fifteen years by Judge Hinman.

Mrs. Kenyon took the verdict calmly. After she and her relatives had been conducted from the court and into an automobile, she was driven to her home. Who it was is not known, but it is stated that it was Alvin Kenyon, husband of the convicted woman.

KNIFE TO RENEW YOUTH

U. S. Physician Sets Practical Demonstration of Rejuvenation

New York, Oct. 23.—Dr. E. G. Marr, a surgeon of Baltimore, who went to Vienna to study the state of theory of the rejuvenation of human beings by surgical treatment, arrived in this city yesterday from Havre on the French liner La Touraine. He said he had observed the practical demonstration of Dr. Steinhilber upon animals and that the results were astounding.

Dr. Marr brought with him some photographs of rats upon which the experiments had been made. One of the pictures showed a rat in the last stages of physical emaciation; the other showed the same rat rejuvenated by the treatment of Steinhilber.

TODAY'S MARRIAGE LICENSES

Emilio G. Oliver, 1211 S. Taylor st., and Pearl H. Siebel, 128 S. 11th st.; Frank Wood, 1013 Pine st., and Mae W. Ryan, 1720 N. 25th st.; and Violet Blinn, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Charles Alexander, 2307 Shawcross st., and Joseph Dunn, 2400 N. 52d st.; and Mary Maynard, 3 Smith, 3700 Haverford ave.; William L. Poole, 2422 Arlington st. and Ethel M. Hoberman, 4022 Arlington st.; Frank, 2553 N. 21st st.; Albert Ruth, Merchantsville, Pa., and Florence Schwarz, 1921 N. Parkside ave.; Francis Connelly, 1211 S. 11th st., and Laura F. Rhiner, 958 N. 5th st.; and Henry A. Gabel, Stratford, Pa., and Edna John E. Redmond, 1750 Newkirk st.; and Margaret, 1921 N. Parkside ave.; Peter Garofalo, 1905 N. 11th st.; and Charles J. Ingersoll, 1815 Walnut st.; and Edna Haldeman, 2131 North St., and Ellen Haldeman, Atlantic City, N. J.

WOMEN PLAN MOTOR TOUR

Mrs. Yaeger to Drive Party of Four Through Southern States

Emulating the recent exploit of Mrs. Lucretia Blankenburg, widow of former Mayor Blankenburg, in crossing the continent by automobile, Mrs. Howard M. Yaeger, 6623 Chestnut st., West Philadelphia, is planning a motor trip on a smaller scale. She will start shortly on a southern tour.

This budget will be composed of four persons, each more than fifty years old. The itinerary will include the caverns of Luray, the Natural Bridge of Virginia and points of interest in the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida.

NEGRO DUELIST CAUGHT; ONE ESCAPES

Two negroes fighting a duel with revolvers at Lawnside, near Haddon Heights, N. J., were chased by William Gregory, justice of the peace, and two constables, who fired after them. One was brought down with a bullet in his leg. He said he was William Hay, forty-five years old, of Mulford street, Camden. The other negro escaped.

GIRL SCOUTS PLAN DRIVE

Ready for Big Educational Week, Which Starts November 1

Philadelphia's 4000 Girl Scouts are on tiptoe today getting ready for the national educational campaign of their organization, scheduled to begin November 1.

The campaign, which is not a drive but a nationwide friendly movement to help the entire country get better acquainted with the Girl Scouts, will open in this city with a large mass-meeting at the University City Y. M. C. at 10 o'clock, to be held Saturday afternoon, October 30.

A feature of the meeting will be a talk by Estrid Ott, the Danish Girl Scout, who is walking around the world. Department stores and moving-picture houses will co-operate with the Girl Scouts to make these campaigns a success. The stores will devote window space to educational work, and movies that have to do with the activities of the Scouts will be shown in various sections of the city.

The chairman of the campaign committee is Miss Ellen Mary Cassatt. Her assistant is Miss G. E. Martin. Miss Catherine Hutchinson is chairman of the finance committee.

No contributions will be solicited personally by the Scouts, but an effort will be made to raise $27,000 for the cost of the campaign. This is Philadelphia's quota for the national Scout treasury. Headquarters in this city are at 1314 Walnut street.

ALSO WALLOPED "COP"

"Hold-Up" Man and Patrolman Sent to Hospital by "Victim"

Deeply enrobed in the task of subduing three assailants, "Doc" Koleckey, 2526 Annin street, was unable to distinguish friend from foe with the result that a special patrolman, among others, was forced to seek hospital treatment.

The trouble started at Eighteenth and South streets, when Koleckey, it is said, was accosted by three negroes, who tried to sell him fake jewelry. His indifference, it is said, provoked a free for all fight. Unable to escape, Koleckey, it is said, drew a revolver and shot at the assailants. One of the